Company Results | Huationg Global (HUAGL SP/BUY/S$0.555/Target: S$0.88)

Page 2 →

- Huationg's 1H26 revenue of S$198m (+64% yoy) beat expectations by 10% on a 58% surge in civil engineering revenue, but S$8.6m earnings missed on higher diesel/fuel costs, with margins seen recovering in 2H26 as fuel costs normalise and are reimbursed. We maintain BUY, but lower the target price to S$0.88 following our earnings revision, pegged to a lower 10x 2026F PE.

Market Spotlight

1H26: Margin Pressure Expected To Ease; Recovery Ahead

Highlights

- Huationg's 1H26 revenue of S$198m (+64% yoy) exceeded our expectation by 10%, driven by a 58% surge in civil engineering revenue.
- 1H26 earnings of S$8.6m were below expectations, largely due to higher diesel/fuel costs. Going forward, 2H26 earnings and margins are expected to recover from fuel cost normalisation and re-imbursement.
- Maintain BUY with a lower target price of S$0.88, pegged to a lower 10x 2026F PE. Huationg trades at 6.3x 2026F PE, a 37% discount to peers.

Analysis

- Record-high revenue beat but saw cost headwinds. 1H26 revenue rose 64% yoy to S$197.8m, representing 60% of our full-year forecast. Gross profit fell 9% yoy to S$19.1m largely due to higher diesel/fuel and material costs which compressed margins. Net profit was S$8.6m, down 5% yoy, below expectations and representing 39% of our full-year forecast. Gross margin dropped 7.8ppt to 9.7% while net profit margin fell 3.3ppt to 4.1%. We expect a recovery in margins in 2H26 as diesel/fuel costs normalise, and efficiency measures such as fleet upgrades, converting 100 tipper trucks to 12-wheelers to double the load per trip should bring margin upside.
- Civil engineering drove record-high revenue; dormitory operations kicked off. By segment, civil engineering revenue increased 58% to S$177.4m in 1H26 (1H25: S$112.1m), while its new management contract for a dormitory kicked off, contributing S$10.0m to top-line and slightly offsetting the lower civil engineering margins. Inland logistics grew 5% yoy, while sales of construction material grew 140% off a lower base.
- Fuel shock should ease, but not fully reverse in 2026. While 1H26 saw incremental diesel costs of about S$6m, roughly half is expected to be reimbursed by the government in 2H26, plus around S$3m in 3Q26 with a similar 50% reimbursement. We model 2026 gross margin at 13.0%, with 2H26 offsetting a weaker 1H26, but still well below 2025's 16.5%.

Company Description

Huationg Global provides civil engineering services for infrastructure projects and ancillary inland logistics support services. The company also sells construction materials.

- Higher interim dividend. A higher interim dividend of 0.6 S cent/share (1H25: 0.5 S cent; +20% yoy) was declared. While no dividend policy is set in stone yet, the company highlighted a strong final dividend for 2026 to increase shareholder value.
- Strong order pipeline and orderbook continue to provide earnings visibility. Huationg Global's (Huationg) strong orderbook of S$533m as of end-Jun 26 should continue to support earnings visibility over the next four years. Huationg remains focused on government infrastructure and sees a healthy pipeline from Changi Airport and other major public works. The company continues to actively tender for new projects and also highlighted three tenders of above S$100m in contract value each awaiting results.
- Cash deployment reflects working capital and growth capex. Cash fell to S$66.8m at end-Jun 26 from S$124.6m at end-25 after a S$24.4m operating cash outflow and S$41.9m investing outflow, including land and equipment purchases. Management expects its cash position to recover going forward, with a S$70m-80m year-end cash target.
- Dormitory/property development adds recurring income. The current 4000-bed government dormitory is expected to operate through Feb 27, with the tender likely to be out towards end-26. The new secondary dormitory is targeted for partial TOP by end-27, with all beds for external tenants and management expecting double-digit margins. This adds a high-margin and recurring income stream and keeps the group well-positioned for future dormitory tenders.
- Potential Mainboard transfer could trigger re-rating. As a profitable, dividend-paying company with over S$100m market cap and a consistent track record, Huationg meets the key eligibility criteria for a transfer from the Catalist board to the SGX Mainboard. A successful transfer would elevate visibility, improve liquidity and increase the investor base, supporting a potential re-rating.

Valuation/Recommendation

- Maintain BUY with a 28% lower target price of S$0.88 (S$1.23 previously), after revising our earnings forecasts downwards. Our target price is also pegged to a lower 10x 2026F PE (11x 2026F PE previously) in line with peers' average which de-rated. Huationg's strong orderbook and potential Mainboard transfer provide catalysts for re-rating. Trading at just 6.3x 2026F PE, a 37% discount to peers' average of 10x, the stock offers an attractive value proposition.

Earnings Revision/Risk

- We lower our 2026-28 revenue forecasts by 2.7%/3.7%/1.6% respectively on a slower contract rollout backdrop in 2026, and trim our earnings forecasts by 21.0%/11.5%/3.4% following higher diesel/fuel costs which impacted 1H26 earnings and margins more than expected.

Share Price Catalyst

- Higher-than-expected order wins and margin expansion.
- Potential Mainboard transfer unlocks value.

Singapore Exchange (SGX SP)

Trading buy range:	S$25.27-25.28
Last price:	S$25.40
Target price:	S$27.32
Protective stop:	S$24.63

Price printed a rebound off its resistance-turned-support zone. The RSI remains firmly anchored in positive territory and is turning upward. With price gathering strength for an assault on its current all-time high at S$25.50, a decisive breakout above this key ceiling is expected to unlock blue-sky price discovery and trigger a new leg higher.

The potential upside target is S$27.32. Stop-loss could be placed at S$24.63.

Approximate timeframe on average: 1-2 weeks (initiate this trade idea if the stock hits the entry price range within three trading days)

Our institutional research has a fundamental HOLD and target price of S$23.40.

Riverstone (RSTON SP)

Trading sell range:	S$0.810-0.815
Last price:	S$0.810
Target price:	S$0.720
Protective stop:	S$0.830

Price was firmly capped by its support-turned-resistance zone. The RSI remains grounded in negative territory and is turning downward. As long as sellers continue to defend this converted resistance ceiling, path-of-least-resistance dynamics favour a sustained continuation move lower towards the underlying support zone.

The potential downside target is S$0.72. Stop-loss could be placed at S$0.83.

Approximate timeframe on average: 1-2 weeks (initiate this trade idea if the stock hits the entry price range within three trading days)

Our institutional research has a fundamental BUY and target price of S$1.21.
