Disciplined Reconstitution To Pivot Towards The Living Sector

Highlights

- CLAS has recycled capital by deploying divestment proceeds from The Robertson House to acquire the higher-yielding Coliwoo Midtown with an EBITDA yield of 4.1%. The transaction is estimated to be 2.4% accretive to DPU.
- CLAS has sizeable past divestment gains totalling S$300m, which could be distributed to offset negative impact from ongoing AEs to stabilise DPU.
- CLAS continues to create value through disciplined portfolio reconstitution. It provides an attractive 2027F DPU yield of 7.3% due to unit price correction of 13.1% ytd. Maintain BUY. Target price: S$0.99.

Analysis

- Acquiring Coliwoo Midtown in Singapore. CapitaLand Ascott Trust (CLAS) is acquiring Coliwoo Midtown for S$134m, recycling capital from the divestment of The Robertson House into a higher-yielding asset with an EBITDA yield of 4.1%. The asset has a 10-year triple-net master lease with fixed rent and annual indexation. The transaction is estimated to be 2.4% accretive to DPU. Located in the Bugis-Bras Basah precinct, Coliwoo Midtown has 212 rooms, ranging from two- to five-bedroom units. The newly refurbished property benefits from inflows of international students and expatriate professionals seeking flexible accommodation. Educational institutions nearby include Singapore Management University, School Of The Arts, Nanyang Academy of Fine Arts and LaSalle. It is conveniently located near four MRT stations, namely Bencoolen, Bras Basah and Bugis and Rochor. The acquisition is expected to complete in 4Q26.
- Singapore's co-living market is underpenetrated. Coliwoo Midtown's occupancy was 90% in Jul 26, while the average length of stay was six to nine months. The potential to top up the remaining 51-year leasehold tenure to a fresh 99-year lease strengthens the asset's long-term investment appeal. Living assets now account for 19.5% of portfolio valuation, moving closer to its medium-term allocation target of 25-30%.
- Divested The Robertson House in Singapore. CLAS has completed the divestment of The Robertson House by The Crest Collection for S$360m, representing an attractive exit yield of 2.3% and a premium of 4.0% above book value, in Jul 26. The selling price was attractive at about S$1.1m per key. The transaction generated net proceeds of S$342m and net gain of S$38m. The divestment underscores CLAS' disciplined capital recycling strategy, which enhances financial flexibility to redeploy capital into higher-yielding assets. Singapore remains one of CLAS' core markets with the ongoing redevelopment of Somerset Clarke Quay.

Source: CLAS, UOB Kay Hian

- Same-store performance resilient in 1H26. CLAS reported 1H26 DPU of 2.53 S cents (flat yoy), which is in line with our expectation. Core DPU declined 10% yoy due to: a) net divestment proceeds from Citadines Central Shinjuku Tokyo (CCST) of JPY21b (S$187m) have yet to be fully received and fully deployed, b) ongoing AEIs at The Cavendish London and Madison Hamburg, and c) one-off withholding tax adjustment in China and land tax adjustment in Australia. CLAS recorded non-periodic items totalling S$23.8m in 1H26, of which S$9.6m (40%) was retained. CLAS topped up distribution by S$13.4m to mitigate the negative impact of disruption from the AEIs.
- Committed to deliver stable DPU. CLAS has a sizeable pool of past divestment gains totalling S$300m. Management is committed to stabilising DPU by distributing past divestment gains, estimated at about S$300m, to offset negative impact from ongoing AEIs and recent divestments.
- Aggregate leverage eased 1.2ppt qoq to 37.7% as of Jun 26 after repaying high-interest debt using divestment proceeds from CCST. Interest coverage ratio is stable at 2.9x. Effective cost of borrowings remains low at 2.8%. Management expects cost of borrowings to remain stable in 2H26. We expect cost of debt to gradually rise to 3.0% in 2H27 due to higher interest rates for loans denominated in Japanese yen (40% of total loans) and US dollars (18% of total loans).

Valuation/Recommendation

- Expanding in longer-stay living sector. The living sector accounted for 18% of portfolio valuation as of Jun 26 (student accommodation: 11%, rental housing: 7%). CLAS intends to acquire student accommodations in the UK (yield: 5-6%) and Singapore (yield: 5%). It is scouting for rental housing in Tokyo, Osaka and Fukuoka in Japan (yield: 4%).
- Redevelopment of former Somerset Liang Court into Somerset Clarke Quay. Located in the heart of the Clarke Quay riverfront lifestyle precinct, the property benefits from direct connectivity to Fort Canning MRT station and dual frontages overlooking the Singapore River and Fort Canning Hill, providing an attractive location for both leisure and corporate guests. The project comprises of a 192-unit serviced residence with a hotel licence, allowing operational flexibility to capture different accommodation demand. The redevelopment is on track for completion by end-26 with operations expected to commence in early-27. The project positions CLAS to benefit from growth tourism and extended-stay accommodation in Singapore.
- Maintain BUY. Our target price of S$0.99 is based on DDM (cost of equity: 8.15%, terminal growth: 2.2%).

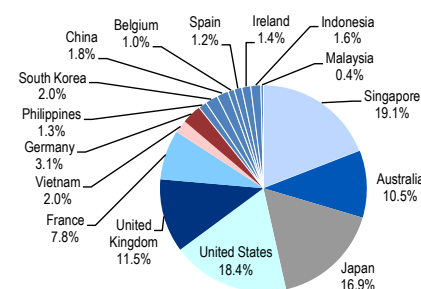

Earnings Revision/Risk

- We forecast a stable DPU of 6.1 S cents in 2026F and 2027F due to top-ups through distribution of past divestment gains to offset negative impact from closure of The Cavendish London during the ongoing AEI. For 2028F, we trimmed DPU forecast by 5% due to higher cost of debt and recent weakness of the euro and Australian dollar against the Singapore dollar.

Share Price Catalyst

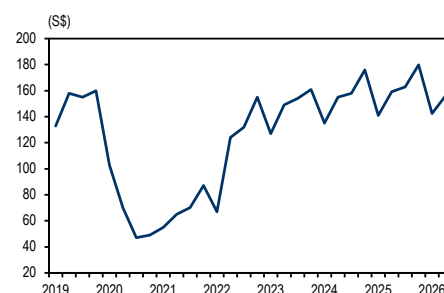

- Continued recovery in leisure travel and corporate demand. Yield-accretive acquisitions for student accommodation and rental housing.

Singapore Airlines (SIA SP)

Trading buy range:	S$6.65-6.66
Last price:	S$6.66
Target price:	S$7.07
Protective stop:	S$6.54

Price established a foundational bottoming sequence along the demand at S$6.46 and is currently attempting to construct a higher low. The RSI has executed an exit from deep oversold territory and is currently hovering near its neutral 50-midline. The S$6.81 threshold marks the key upper structural pivot and swing high barrier; a decisive penetration and daily close above S$6.81 will complete a bullish trend change confirmation, and implies a sustained upward expansion towards higher supply targets.

The potential upside target is S$7.07. Stop-loss could be placed at S$6.54.

Approximate timeframe on average: 1-2 weeks (initiate this trade idea if the stock hits the entry price range within three trading days)

Our institutional research has a fundamental HOLD and target price of S$6.71.

Parkway Life Real Estate Investment Trust (PREIT SP)

Trading sell range:	S$3.97-3.98
Last price:	S$3.95
Target price:	S$3.78
Protective stop:	S$4.07

Price was capped by its support-turned-resistance zone. The failure to reclaim the converted supply ceiling truncates the flag's counter-trend consolidation. The RSI is sloping downward and breaking below its neutral 50-midline. As long as price remains capped underneath this converted supply and flag breakdown pivot, we see a continued downward expansion towards lower demand targets.

The potential upside target is S$3.78. Stop-loss could be placed at S$4.07.

Approximate timeframe on average: 1-2 weeks (initiate this trade idea if the stock hits the entry price range within three trading days)

Our institutional research has a fundamental BUY and target price of S$5.45.
